THE ACLU OF DELAWARE has realized a bold vision: expanding our litigation, legal and legislative advocacy by adding a nationally acclaimed Legal Director, Susan L. Burke, as well as increasing our capacity in communications and development. As a member of our AMICUS SOCIETY, you are a critical part of that vision as an ACLU of Delaware ambassador to the broader legal community, a thought partner on cutting edge civil liberties issues, and generous supporter of our legal advocacy work.

About the Amicus Society

IT WAS 1961 WHEN THE ACLU OF DELAWARE (ACLU-DE), THE LOCAL AFFILIATE OF THE NATIONAL ACLU, WAS FOUNDED. We are a first resort when the government threatens our rights and a last hope when we are deprived of our liberties. To advance civil liberties in our great state, we depend on the support of our community including the members of our Amicus Society.

MEMBERSHIP IN THE ACLU OF DELAWARE AMICUS SOCIETY brings you into a network of First State lawyers who are committed to defending our civil rights and civil liberties. Becoming a member of the Amicus Society allows us to continue to provide free legal assistance to any Delawarean whose civil liberties are under threat and, through membership, also supports public-education campaigns related to the law, the justice system, or both.

WE ARE PROUD TO INTRODUCE THE INCLUSION OF FREE CLEs TO ALL AMICUS SOCIETY MEMBERS. We plan to hold at least five courses across the span of each calendar year. At the average cost of $100/credit, member attendees of all five courses will receive CLE credits in the value of $500. For those joining as new members of the bar, or public interest lawyers, this is double the value of your membership.

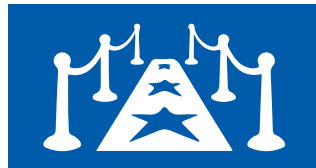

IN RECENT YEARS, THE AMICUS SOCIETY HAS RECEIVED EXCLUSIVE ACCESS TO CASES such as LWV Delaware v. Dept. of Elections, Wright v. City of Wilmington, Smack v. Debalso, and the most recently settled Delawareans for Educational Opportunity v. Carney, filed originally in 2018. Each of these cases shed light on critical inequities, and paved the way for lasting change in the First State.

WE HAVE BEEN MAKING HISTORY HERE IN DELAWARE, protecting and preserving civil liberties for all Delawareans. Help us to keep upholding the civil liberties of all people—join the ACLU of Delaware’s Amicus Society.
